

Punctuality

Return by: _____

You have at least 10 tardies. Copy this page word for word on a separate sheet of paper. Look up the definitions to all the underlined words and write them on the bottom or back of this sheet.

I have come late to school 10 times. While there are many reasons that I might have been late to school, I realize the value of timely arrival to my class. Punctuality, as well as other valuable habits, is important to me and I well know the difficulties involved when I come to school late and miss important instruction or disrupt the flow of the class.

In the future, I will endeavor to be one of those whose habitual promptness will stand out as an example to others. My determination to be punctual will be evidenced by early arrival and time management in the morning before I come to school. By being early to my class I will be ready for a full day of schoolwork and receive all the instruction for my work without my teacher having to repeat it because of my lateness.
